Ecofeminist Literary Criticism: Theory, Interpretation, Pedagogy (Environment Human Condition) From University of Illinois Press

Ecofeminism is a practical movement for social change that discerns interconnections among various forms of oppression: the exploitation of nature, the oppression of women, and racism. This anthology explores both how ecofeminism can enrich literary criticism and how literary criticism can contribute to ecofeminist theory and activism.

Editorial Review

From the Back Cover

Ecofeminism is a practical movement for social change that discerns interconnections among all forms of oppression: the exploitation of nature, the oppression of women, class exploitation, racism, colonialism. Against binary divisions such as self/other, culture/nature, man/woman, humans/animals, and white/nonwhite, ecofeminist theory asserts that human identity is shaped by more fluid relationships and by an acknowledgment of both connection and difference.

Once considered the province of philosophy and women's studies, ecofeminism in recent years has been incorporated into a broader spectrum of academic discourse. The first collection of its kind, Ecofeminist Literary Criticism assembles some of the most insightful advocates of this perspective to illuminate ecofeminism as a valuable component of literary criticism.

Review

"An outstanding contribution to the developing field of ecofeminism. It will be as useful to those who have been looking for a good text on which to base a course in ecofeminist literary criticism as it will be to those who wonder what the field is all about. Taken together, these essays suggest the range of connections and possibilities implicit in ecofeminist literary criticism -- connections, for example, between spirituality and science, ecology and literature, or environmental activism and literary theory." Carol H. Cantrell, professor of English, Colorado State University reading it, like winning a casino game. Do you want to try this extraordinary paying spare time activity?

Pamela Acuna:

Is it anyone who having spare time subsequently spend it whole day simply by watching television programs or just lying down on the bed? Do you need something new? This Ecofeminist Literary Criticism: Theory, Interpretation, Pedagogy (Environment Human Condition) can be the answer, oh how comes? A book you know. You are and so out of date, spending your extra time by reading in this brand new era is common not a nerd activity. So what these ebooks have than the others?

Sean Ward:

As a scholar exactly feel bored in order to reading. If their teacher asked them to go to the library in order to make summary for some e-book, they are complained. Just minor students that has reading's spirit or real their interest. They just do what the professor want, like asked to the library. They go to at this time there but nothing reading seriously. Any students feel that studying is not important, boring and can't see colorful photographs on there. Yeah, it is for being complicated. Book is very important for you. As we know that on this period of time, many ways to get whatever we want. Likewise word says, ways to reach Chinese's country. So , this Ecofeminist Literary Criticism: Theory, Interpretation, Pedagogy (Environment Human Condition) can make you feel more interested to read.
