Sherpa of Khumbu: People, Livestock, and Landscape (Studies in Social Ecology & Environmental History) By Barbara Brower

This study looks at animal management in Sagarmatha National Park in the context of Sherpa subsistence. Brower covers topics such as the intricacy of the man-land relationship, the adaptability of traditional people, and the range of considerations that must be taken into account in any attempt to modify land-use practices. Sherpa history and economy are discussed as are the substantial changes that the traditional life of Khumbu has undergone in the past few decades.
